

The move to an asset financing model has had a dramatic and immediate impact on sales

Extraordinarily, in only our second month after launching our asset finance model, Heya! has made an Operational Profit at County level; with strong growth expected within the launch counties for many months to come. We believe this is unprecedented in the off-grid energy and distribution sector and the foundation upon which we can expand aggressively.